Your Partner for Sustainable Litter Management, Helping Hand Environmental (a division of The Helping Hand Company) have been manufacturing Litter Clearance Tools and supporting UK local authorities in improving Litter Management since 1965. We are delighted to announce our head office remains in Ledbury, but the business has expanded to include a 40,000 sq ft manufacturing facility in Hereford. For the third year running, we have been accredited to ISO9001:2008, ensuring the very highest standards when it comes to product quality.

Introducing Our New Pro Range

- Providing the right tool for the right application

Our NEW Professional range of litter clearance tools deliver intelligent design, comfortable handling, target application; delivering smarter solutions for improved litter management. Whether you work in a City, Urban, Rural or Specialist zone we have created the perfect companions to help you tackle your environmental problem.

We understand that local authorities are faced with a host of environmental challenges: budget restrictions, ensuring value for money, cost effective delivery of work and longevity of tools. Our NEW Professional range can help you meet these challenges by providing: cost effective tools for the right type of litter, free training for staff on tool application and environmental hazards, provide the right tool for the right application guaranteed and free marketing support for local clean up activity.
